

Stephen LoGiudice, CCM, general manager of The Club at Ibis, West Palm Beach, serves as vice president; and Chip Misch, CCM, general manager of The Loxahatchee Club in Jupiter, is secretary/treasurer. Jeff Hartigan, CCM, general manager of The Oaks Club in Osprey, is the chapter's immediate past president.

Other regional directors elected and installed are:

Everglades Region—Mark Neneman, general manager of Palmira Golf Club, Bonita Springs, and James Lynn, CCM, general manager of Wyndemere Golf & Country Club, Naples.

Gator Region—Scott Fairbairn, CCM, CCE, general manager of Tampa Yacht & Country Club, and David Somers, CCM, CCE, CAM, general manager of Heritage Oaks Golf & Country Club, Sarasota.

North/Sunshine Region—Robert Schlingmann, CCM, CCE, CAM, general manager of The Plantation of Ponte Vedra Beach, and Ryan Spence, CCM, CAM, general manager of Lake Nona Country Club, Lake Nona.

Seminole Region—Larry Savvides, CCM, CCE, Mizner Country Club, Delray Beach, and Kevin Bauer, CCM, CCE, Gulf Stream Golf Club, Gulf Stream.

CLUB NEWS

Photo courtesy of Farmington Country Club

The United States Army Culinary Arts Team, advised by Farmington Country Club Executive Chef Michael Matarazzo, CEC, wins gold in the Cold Food category during the Culinary Olympics held in Erfurt, Germany.

Farmington Country Club Executive Chef Michael Matarazzo, CEC, and Assistant Pastry Chef Megan Bamford brought home some very impressive souvenirs from the Internationale Kochkunst Ausstellung, also known as the Culinary Olympics, in Erfurt, Germany, last fall. Chef Bamford served as one of two pastry chefs for Youth Team USA, and Chef Matarazzo was the advisor to the United States Army Culinary Arts Team (USACAT), the U.S. military's team from all branches of the service.

The Youth Team USA won silver in the Edible Buffet and Hot Food Kitchen categories, taking fifth place overall in the world. The USACAT took gold in the Cold Food category and bronze in the Hot Food Kitchen. The quadrennial chef competition, held at the largest culinary exhibition in the world, consists of as many as 62 teams, representing 54 nations and more than 1,600 participating chefs.

Quail Valley in Vero Beach, FL, has opened its newest amenity, Quail Valley at The Pointe, a 47,365-square-foot, two-level restaurant featuring multiple bars, an open-air kitchen, expansive outdoor seating options, and panoramic views of the Indian River. The new facility also offers the club's membership an additional 11 suites with one-, two-, and three-bedroom options.

Quail Valley was established in 2000 and now features three locations throughout Indian River County, offering its members an array of amenities, including an 18-hole Nick Price/Tom Fazio II-designed golf course; a 43-slip marina with kayaks, canoes, and paddleboards; fishing vessels and a new Crosby launch taxi boat; a 25-meter lap pool; a spa; fitness and group exercise rooms; tennis; and the Riverhouse Lodge, with eight suites, two restaurants, and a riverside tiki bar.

The Preserve Course at Quail West Golf & Country Club in Naples, FL, has reopened following a major renovation authored by architect Drew Rogers. The work at The Preserve included a complete green and bunker renovation, irrigation replacement, conversion to Celebration hybrid Bermuda grass, a practice facility expansion, and a tee realignment. A similar overhaul of the club's second 18, the Lakes Course, is scheduled to begin in the spring.

Chef Jonathan Moosmiller, Certified Master Chef (CMC), executive chef of Southern Hills Country Club in Tulsa, OK, has been named an associate of the Master Chefs' Institute. Moosmiller earned his CMC certification in 2014 and is one of only 67 CMCs in the United States.

Michael Marvin, first assistant for the Upper Montclair Country Club in Clifton, NJ, has been named the 2016 Assistant of the Year in the New Jersey PGA Section.

The Riviera Tennis Club in Pacific Palisades, CA, has hired Mary Pat Faley as its new director of tennis. Faley is a successful tennis teacher, entrepreneur, speaker, and the author of Winning in Tennis and Life: How to Execute Your Strategy on and off the Court.

In addition to her 25-year United States Professional Tennis Association (USPTA) membership, Faley was the Southern California 2011 USPTA Tennis Pro of the Year, 2010 USPTA California Pro of the Year, and the 2009 USPTA California District 2 Pro of the Year. 🎾